The Mineral Display.
The following is gleaned from press accounts of the Nevada exhibit at San Francisco during the late Knights of Pythias convalesce:
The central front space was given to the ores from Tonopah, the two-year-old camp. The specimens from this camp attracted no doubt the most attention of all the exhibit. Henry Cutting and Clay Peters represented the Tonopah Exchange and mines. They were frequently present to talk up that camp.
The elk head loaned by John Sparks attracted much attention. It was conspicuously mounted in the upper center of the booth. There was 112 feet of shelving filled with minerals, from Peavine and Pyramid on the northwest to Searchlight in the southeastern portion of the state.
Other and valuable additions were added to the exhibit after its arrival at San Francisco, and every county was represented. The space allotted to Nevada, 20 x 8 feet, and ten feet more was secured, but even this was found too small to properly display the minerals. The booth was artistically trimmed with the colors of the K. of P. order, to which was finally added a profusion of Nevada sagebrush. A large amount was reserved to present in little twigs to former residents, all of whom and many visitors expressed pleasure to receive the same.
The booth was carefully taken down and with the minerals all shipped free of charge to Reno, and is now in good order to be put up again as soon as a building can be arranged for, which should be without delay.
The opinion of the San Francisco journals, her business men and the prominent men from eastern states, expressed to those in charge of the Nevada exhibit, was that it would no doubt do our state great good and bring her to the attention of capitalists who will seek investment there in the future. So may it prove.
